The trail starts in Colle, a hamlet founded in the Middle Age. After your walk through this village you can leave it through one of the city gates.

The guide will take you along the Cessana stream to the village Borgo a Buggiano. The stream flows in a very narrow valley surrounded by woods and it is rich in riparian biodiversity and the landscape is historical and environmental value. Indeed who walks along these paths can appreciate the ancient works and structures: stone bridges, mills, oil mills, sources and aqueducts.

The most ancient bridge is "Ponte sulla Strada Rio delle Due" it has a medieval origin and a particular donkey back shape. Well, now you can reach, going uphill, Buggiano castle situated on a peak. Citrus plants and other beautiful plants and flowers are grown here, which can be seen behind the gardens gate. The walks ends in Colle where we leaved our cars.
